

The Revision Days run by Anketell Training have been superb, dynamic and practical. Students work in small groups to discuss key theory, exam style questions and gain instant feedback. We have sent a range of students with excellent outcomes. Adam Farrugia, Head of Economics and Business, Beauchamps High School

The session went down VERY well with the students, they thought it was extremely useful and it has made them think about the case data in another light. Nicky King, Head of Economics & Business, Radley College
